

TIPS FOR BUILDING A Memory Playlist

Create a Memory Playlist for Someone You Love

The songs we love become connected to people, places and moments throughout our lives. Use these prompts to help uncover the music that matters most to someone you love. Don't worry about choosing the "perfect" songs. Choose their songs.

GROWING UP

What music did you listen to as a child?
Was there a song your family loved?

TEENAGE YEARS

Who was your favorite singer or band?
What song takes you back to high school?

LOVE & FAMILY

What song reminds you of your spouse or partner?
Was there a special song at your wedding?
What music reminds you of raising your family?

FAITH & TRADITIONS

Is there a hymn or spiritual song that means something to you?
What music reminds you of holidays or family traditions?

SONGS THAT MAKE YOU HAPPY

What song always makes you smile?
What song makes you want to dance?
What song do you know every word to?

Build Your Playlist

Choose 10 favorite songs from your conversation.

DON'T FORGET THE STORIES

When a song means something, ask:
"What does this song remind you of?"

Write down the story, record the conversation or share it with your family. Then turn on the music and enjoy it together.

At Mustang Creek Estates, music is one of the many ways residents connect, have fun and enjoy time together. Call/text a neighborhood near you to learn more.
